

DROPOUT

Dropout is a regularization technique used in neural networks where randomly selected neurons are temporarily deactivated during training. This forces the network to learn more robust features. During inference, all neurons are active, but their outputs are scaled by the dropout rate, ensuring that the model can make predictions with all neurons contributing effectively.

